Introducing a new program for future leaders

Want to unlock your leadership potential?

You can develop your leadership skills with the CYF Leadership Program and help fight inequality.

CodeYourFuture (CYF) trains people from underprivileged backgrounds in coding and employablilty skills, and then helps them find good jobs in tech.

Passionate, talented and engaged individuals drive our mission forward.
To have a greater impact, we are launching a new program for future leaders to guide our regions, helping create the foundation for a movement serving communities worldwide.

Leaders will run one of the CYF volunteer teams for one cohort.

Why Join the CYF Leadership Program?

- Enhance your decision-making abilities and learn to handle new situations.

- Own a project that will reduce the diversity gap in the tech industry

- Network with people from other cultures, backgrounds, ways of thinking and working

How do I know if if this program is right for me?

- You would like to gain or build on leadership experience in a social impact organisation

- You have weekly availability to dedicate to this programme for 6-12 months

- You are interested in applying for future management, entrepreneurship or social-impact roles

If selected, you will:

- Grow as a leader and help reduce social inequality

- Receive relevant training, count on regular feedback and support on CV writing and mock interviews[]

- Have access to a network of more than 400 professionals

- Receive a Certificate/ Letter of recommendation

Required commitment will be between 7-10h per week (flexible hours). Candidates will apply for a selection and onboarding process.

Interested in applying? Please register here and we'll be in touch soon.